NOTED WOMAN LEADER TO SPEAK IN SPRINGS TODAY

Jane Addams Will Deliver Message in Interests of Progressive Cause

Jane Addams, philanthropist and sociologist of worldwide fame, will make her first public appearance in Colorado Springs this afternoon, when she will give an address in Temple theater, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Addams, who is campaigning heart and soul for the Progressive cause, is a member of the executive board of the National Progressive party. The current issue of the American magazine prints a half page photograph of Miss Addams, over the cut line, "The Foremost Woman in America—No Single Person's Indorsement of the Progressive Party Has Had Influence Comparable to That of Miss Addams. She is Known and Loved by Thousands and Respected by Millions. Miss Addams is the First Woman to Have a Place on the Executive Board of a National Political Party."

JANE ADDAMS, WHO TALKS HERE TODAY.

Remember, Miss Addams' address begins at 2:30 sharp this afternoon, as she must catch a train for Pueblo less than two hours afterward.

Speaks in Denver.
DENVER, Nov. 1.—Miss Jane Addams of Hull house, Chicago, made a plea for woman's support of the Progressive party candidates before a large audience tonight at the auditorium. The meeting was under the auspices of the Woman's Progressive league of Denver, and although only one man had a seat of honor upon the stage, the audience was half composed of men.

Miss Addams said Colonel Roosevelt had been charged with being changeable. "This," she said, "was true, and indicated mental development and an ability to improve in the understanding of changing conditions."

She will leave tomorrow for Colorado Springs.

Arrangements for her visit to Colorado Springs are in charge of a committee composed of Mrs. Dan D. Casement, chairman; Mrs. Clarence Dodge, Mrs. James Stewart, Mrs. W. Williamson, Mrs. Dunbar F. Carpenter, Mrs. E. A. Rosenfeld, Mrs. William C. Sturgis, George M. Howe, J. M. Johnson, W. W. Williamson, William R. Willis, W. C. Sturgis and D. F.

That James F. Burns and Ira Harris, representing the minority on the board of directors of the Isabella Mines company, will ask the courts for a receiver to inquire into the management of the mining property, unless the majority directors—E. E. Quentin, A. C. Gardner and E. M. Kiron—allow Mr. Burns' engineers to investigate the condition of the property within the next month, was the threat made at the monthly meeting of the directors in this city last Thursday.

It is openly admitted that there was much friction at the meeting, due largely to the failure of the officials to present a report as to the financial condition of the company.

Mr. Burns, as the minority representative, asked the board that he be allowed to send his engineer over the property to find out whether anything had been concealed that affected the minority's interest. "The majority on the board refused to allow him to do so, stating that the regular monthly statement was the heavy office work coming toward the end of the month. For an hour and a half the directors fought over the proposition of why the expense account was not forthcoming, as usual. According to statements given out by Mr. Burns, questions he asked relative to the cost of the management of the mine were unanswered, and the majority announced that they would wait until the next meeting to answer them."

The fight in the Isabella directorate is one of long standing. At the annual meeting in Cheyenne, Wyo., last February, Mr. Burns represented 18,000 shares of stock, being about 150,000 of control. At this meeting he fought to have the company's headquarters removed to Colorado Springs and to change the management, but he was defeated.

It is intimated in mining circles that there may be other developments in the fight before the expiration of the month allowed by Mr. Burns for a full report of conditions. The breach in the company's directorate has been widened by Mr. Burns' contention that the majority is concealing figures of importance from the minority.

Rupp, The Elks band will provide music at the meeting, and special campaign songs will be distributed to the audience.

Because she believes the Progressive cause is the only one that seeks justice for the common people, Miss Addams has temporarily given up her other work to aid in the movement for principle. She has a message for the women of Colorado Springs, and the general public, men as well as women, are invited.

Miss Addams will arrive here about noon, and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Dodge while in the city. Almost immediately after her address in Temple theater she will leave for Pueblo, where she speaks tonight.

WALL STREET IS BEHIND WILSON

Gov. Johnson Makes Use of Schoolmaster's Boast in New York Speech

"THEY'RE BEING ON HIM"

"Confession" by Democratic Candidate Clarifies the Air on "Trusts"

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 1.—That while in a boastful mood, Governor Wilson, speaking last night in Madison Square Garden, made a "confession" which clarifies the positions of himself and the Wall street interests in the present campaign, was the assertion of Governor Johnson in a speech at Convention hall tonight.

"This fight is between common humanity on the one hand, and those who wish to exploit common humanity on the other," he declared.

"Last night the Democratic candidate for president was in a rather boastful mood, and he made a statement in Madison Square Garden to which I wish to divert for a moment."

Quotes Wilson Remark.
"I will read his remarks as reported in the press. He spoke as follows:

"The gentlemen in Wall street don't bet 3 to 1 on their destruction, and they don't go to their business smiling and complacent when they expect a deluge next week."

"This he said in respect to his own attitude in the campaign, and what he believed. He is absolutely correct. Wall street does not go to its business smiling and complacent when it expects a deluge."

Where Wall Street Stands.
"When Mr. Wilson made that confession, he relieved us from the necessity of making inferences and drawing conclusions, because he told us just where he stood, and what is more, just where Wall street stands in this contest."

"And so, my friends, you have the position of Wall street from the very lips of Mr. Wilson. In the contemplation of his boasted success, Wall street is smiling and complacent."

Covers Roosevelt Schedule.
Today Governor Johnson covered a schedule laid out for Colonel Roosevelt, and it was difficult, rough territory to the most hardened campaigners. Early in the day a rain set in and it rained intermittently until midnight. Despite this inclemency, the governor spoke in all the cities to which he had

WATERMAN AND BALLREICH TALK

ADDRESS 249 PERSONS AT REPUBLICAN RALLY

Arraign Democrats, Praise Roosevelt and Uphold Protective Tariff

Without recommending or promising remedial measures for the relief or removal of unjust conditions that are oppressing the common people, but defining the futile struggle of toilers for a meager existence as the cost of high living, and exhibiting menus of several fashionable hotels as evidence, speakers at the Republican rally last night in the Grand Opera house failed to impress a single convincing argument upon the small audience.

Just 249 persons, including 10 children, were in the house after the brass band played several times and departed before the meeting closed 62 persons left the house, interrupting the speakers. No attempt was made to criticize the high political citizenship of Colonel Roosevelt. Likewise interest was manifested in the presentation of Republican doctrines as exemplified in Taft and his supporters, and at no time was any degree of enthusiasm in evidence. George M. Irwin presided.

Charles A. Ballreich, attorney for the Santa Fe railroad at Pueblo, and Republican candidate for congress from the Second congressional district, claimed that never has the country been more prosperous than under the present Republican administration. "I say he who declared that the high cost of living for workingmen is the cost of high living, and as though to clinch his argument exhibited menus from expensive hotels, on which a portion of children was quoted at $2.25 and a bowl of soup at 3 cents."

Praises Roosevelt.
Mr. Ballreich spoke in highest terms of the achievements for the Panama canal under the Roosevelt administration. He spoke of the love and faith of the people in Roosevelt, and admitted that many in the audience will vote for Roosevelt.

"It is absolutely necessary for you to vote for Roosevelt to satisfy your consciences," he said. "It does not of necessity follow that you must vote the rest of the Bull Moose ticket. You satisfy your conscience. I repeat, by voting for Roosevelt, declare."

Mr. Ballreich neglected to state that the Bull Moose ticket was designed to defeat the supporters and loyal workers for the Roosevelt cause, the cause of the common people, by omitting from the legislative, judicial and executive tickets, and that by such omission enemies of the cause hoped to gain control of the legislative bodies to defeat surreptitiously the very principles of the Progressive cause.

After arraigning his competitor, H. H. Seldembridge of Colorado Springs, Democratic candidate for congress, as endeavoring to destroy the industries of Colorado by advocacy of a dam

TURKS AND BULGARIANS LOCKED IN DEATH GRAPPLE

One of World's Greatest Struggles Raging on Slopes Istrandia Mountains

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 1.—(Midnight) Whatever the issue of the terrible battle now raging on the western slopes of the Istrandia mountains in Thrace it undoubtedly will be reckoned among the world's greatest struggles.

Almost uninterrupted for four days and three nights the battle has proceeded, the moon having afforded sufficient light at night for the armies to continue their fierce onslaughts.

Turks and Bulgarians are locked in a grapple which will be broken only by the decisive defeat of one or the other.

The death of thousands from the front necessity of adequate measures to use as a footing of despondency, and the constant order of the city.

Admiral the measures the government has in mind in event of further Turkish advances is the dispatch of an army division to stop all fugitive soldiers before they reach the city.

Telegrams from various sources say that the city is in a state of panic, and that the troops commanded by the Turkish general, Mahmud Muhtar Pasha, in the city of Viza are especially concerned.

Turks Reported Gaining.
The Turkish army was reported to have been holding their own, but to have effected an important advance which was threatening the Bulgarian rear. If this Turkish column joins hands with the garrison at Adrianople and their forces before Adrianople and their troops are being hurried to support the center of the main Bulgarian army.

Some idea of the desperate nature of the fighting is gathered from the fact that more than 400 wounded soldiers have arrived in Constantinople from the front. Forty-two of these soldiers were killed, and their wounds are being treated in the city.

Forward Movement Continues.
Undoubtedly and purpose were expressed here today after the fact that the Greek torpedo boat had succeeded in entering the gulf of Salonika last night, despite the mines and heavily armed forts and had thrown up the Turkish battleship Feth-i-Buland. The commander of the forts will be called to account for permitting this incursion.

The movement of troops to the front continues. A battalion of Kurdish and Albanian volunteers marched through the streets of Pera this evening on the way to the railway station. The men were cheered and appeared to be in the best of spirits.

Aim to Save Capital.
As a result of a meeting Thursday of the heads of the diplomatic missions to consider the situation in Constantinople, the Marquis de Pallavicini, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, today visited Noradunghian Effendi, the foreign minister, and called his attention to the

With her uncle, W. H. Smith, a wealthy cattleman, who found the girl employed as a stenographer at a small salary in Grand Island, Neb., Miss Jenkins passed through Colorado Springs last Thursday. An explanation by the family last night was to the effect that the girl had wandered away while under influence of a persons spell to which she is subject, and that upon recovery among strangers she determined to satisfy a longing for adventure by earning her living away from home.

The search for the missing girl, in which the services of Colorado Springs detectives were enlisted, extended throughout the entire country. A slender clue that she had gone to the home of relatives in Philadelphia was lost

What the Progressive Party Means to WOMEN

By JANE ADDAMS of Hull House and America

The current campaign is full of revelations. Many old-time politicians are doubtless surprised to find that politics has to do with such things as accidents to working men, long hours of work for factory girls, the care of the aged, the support of prisoners' families and many similar humane measures designed to lessen the burdens of the oppressed. On the other hand, many public-spirited women are learning, many of them for the first time, that they have been caring for orphans whose fathers had been needlessly killed by unguarded machinery; that they have rescued girls driven to desperation through long hours and overstrain, who might have been protected by well-tryed legislation; that they have founded homes for old people who quite reasonably objected to going to the poorhouse, but who in other countries would have been cared for by systems of old-age insurance; that they had supported the family of many a convict whose labor was adding to the profits of a prison contractor while his wife and children were dependent upon charity. It was not strange that when a political party considered such matters in their first convention that women were asked to participate; it would, in fact, have been very unnatural if they had been excluded.

Perhaps modern life is changing so where so rapidly as at that wavering line which divides philanthropy from politics. One could name many civic activities in Chicago which were first supported by philanthropic women and later taken over into politics, such as the matrons in the police stations, industrial schools for dependent children, and a dozen others. Women who had long discussed such matters in their clubs and organizations would be curiously self-conscious if they refused to be interested in them simply because they had become matters for political action.

If it be argued that nonpartisan women can present a cause to the Legislatures more acceptably than the women who have been identified with political parties, one can only reply that the women of Illinois have presented the cause of equal suffrage for many years before each session of the Legislature without marked success and that they anticipate a distinct advantage in the future when they shall have help from the "inside" from a number of the members who were elected upon the Progressive platform pledged to the promotion of equal suffrage.

Only a year ago the women suffragists of Illinois, convinced of the futility of the old way, endeavored to commit each candidate through the suffragists of his own district to a pre-election pledge. They tried to do on an individual scale what the Progressive Party is trying to do on a national scale. Vigorous help from "the inside" will come to many another measure in which women have been long interested, such as child labor and the limitation of hours for working girls. Measures of social alleviation introduced into Legislatures will no longer be regarded as the sentimental plans of "reformers," but will be recognized as the strenuous platform of a nationwide political party.

When matters of social reform and industrial justice are embodied in a great political document men are filled as never before with a new sense of zeal for their promotion. These measures become more than a confession of faith when candidates of courage and political experience are nominated to be their sponsors, to be accepted or rejected on the merits of the platform, as well as on their personalities.

The most excellent measures will not appeal to the average voter unless the personalities with whom they are associated engage his interest.

The Presidential Candidate of the Progressive Party, through his long experience, believes in nationalism; the candidate for Vice President has demonstrated the value of the State as a unit of government. A worthy code of social legislation can only be secured through the cooperation of the nation and the States, held to a common purpose through party discipline.

That women are asked to be an integral part of the Progressive Party is at once a homage and pledge that their old humanitarian interests—the care of the sick and the aged, the safeguarding of the helpless—have at last entered politics.

"I GREW to believe in Woman Suffrage, not because of associating with women whose chief interest was in Woman Suffrage, but because of finding out that the women from whom I received most aid in endeavoring to grapple with the social and industrial problems of the day were themselves believers in Woman Suffrage. That man knows little of our political, social and industrial needs as a nation who does not know that in political conventions the politics that ought to be 'regulated' are the politics that affect women precisely as much as they affect men; and he must be unfortunate in his list of acquaintances if he does not know women whose advice and counsel are preeminently worth having in regard to the matters affecting our welfare which it is of most consequence to have dealt with by political conventions."

—Theodore Roosevelt.

About all foot troubles can be traced back to childhood. Children themselves cannot tell what shoes they need and special care should be exercised in fitting shoes on the little folks. In our children's department we use the best of care and judgment and we are not handicapped by a small stock and a shortage of narrow and wide widths. (Continued From Page One.)

ward tariff revision. Mr. Ballreich challenged Mr. Sedgwick to answer the following question:

"Will the removal of duty on lead, zinc and wool reduce the price of those products? If so, will not that be injurious to Colorado?"

Preparing for Defeat.

"If we are defeated," declared Charles W. Waterman, attorney for the sugar beet trust and Republican candidate for the senate for the unexpected term, "if we are defeated," he repeated, "we will live through it."

In opening his address Mr. Waterman reminded the audience that great interest was not manifested in the Republican primaries.

"But we will put the whip and spur to them," he exclaimed, "and roll up a Republican majority."

Referring to the wholesale scandals of which Secretary of State Pearce, Democratic candidate for reelection, is accused, Mr. Waterman said:

"If I were Pearce I would either abandon the ticket or abandon this life. And I say if those other gentlemen in the state house have been concealing what has been going on there, according to allegations, they should be condemned to oblivion with Pearce."

Mr. Waterman, like Mr. Ballreich, constantly referred to the Bull Moose and the Roosevelt parties, omitting reference to the Progressive party. From the tenor of his remarks the audience might gain the erroneous impression that the Bull Moose and Roosevelt tickets represent the real Progressive party—the real party of Roosevelt.

Mr. Waterman attributed the hard times the country has suffered in the past to Democratic administrations, and credited the succeeding administrations in which Roosevelt was a power, with restoring prosperity.

SAYS COAL MEN ARE GIVING GOOD WEIGHTS

Coal dealers in Colorado Springs are giving liberal measure, according to the report of Jesse G. Johnson, inspector of weights and measures, presented yesterday to the city council. The report states that 18 per cent of the loads weighed were of correct weight; 29 per cent were underweight, and 53 per cent overweight, the total net overweight being 1,169 pounds.

In the first eight days of his work since his appointment a month ago, the percentages were respectively 30, 45 and 25, that is, almost one-half the loads weighed were short, but since that time the percentages have been 11, 20 and 69. Practically seven-tenths of all loads now are overweight.

Every German town will hereafter keep a record of hard drinkers, and dealers will have to report all persons who are addicted to habitual intoxication.

JUDGES SHOULD BE FREE FROM STRATTON INFLUENCES

Attorney General's Report Indicated That Inspection of Estate by Courts Is Tax

Attorney General Griffith's report on the Stratton Home property is that what is needed is not a shakeup, but a wise supervision and inspection of the various acts and doings of the trustees by the courts.

The question for the voters is, what is to be gained in the way of wise supervision and inspection if the same old set of judges is elected over and over.

Then again, what may the people expect to gain if the Stratton trustees or the interests allied with the trustees have been influential in nominating and electing the judges? Can they be expected to make the same kind of inspection that a set of judges free from obligation to the trustees can make? Hardly.

The charges may be as unjust as the embezzlement of the Son of Man, but somehow there has gotten into the heads of many voters in this county that the district court judges now on the bench have leaned towards the trustees of this estate—the money of which belongs to the people—rather than towards the people themselves. Judge W. L. Robinson, now a candidate for state senator on the Republican-Progressive ticket, in December, 1908, declared publicly that the election of Morris and Sherman was accomplished by corruption influences, although it was not the Stratton trustees that he referred to.

Judge Little, now county judge, comes in for some comment by the attorney general, which probably explains why he is now the candidate of the Republican party for district judge, and on the Bull Moose ticket by stealth. Judge Robert Kerr was the county judge in 1905, 1906, 1907 and 1908, and the reports submitted to him by the Stratton executors and trustees were so flimsy and gave so little detail that he refused to sign them or accept them as at all final.

When the time came Judge Kerr "got him" and a county judge named John F. Little was elected to succeed him. Judge Little appointed a referee to examine into the Stratton estate affairs and upon receiving a report from the referee immediately signed the reports for the four years that Judge Kerr had turned down. That seems formal and regular and according to logic, but the attorney general points out that the referee's report to Judge Little was merely to the effect that he had examined the affairs of the Stratton estate and everything was all right. He gave no details and Judge Little accepted it. What do you think of that?

JIM BUSSEY WILL NOT GRAFT ON PRISON FOOD

When you come to think of it, making a profit off of the food of prisoners in the county jail is a fearful thing, and yet we civilized people here in El Paso county have sat by indifferently and let it go on for years. A man or woman is taken by force from his home or business, if he has any, and put in jail. Until proven guilty he is entitled to every consideration possible within the power of the taxpayer. The person to whom is entrusted the care of the prisoners has a sacred duty. It is almost unthinkable that anyone would exploit the food of these people, cutting down the quality of it so that he could pocket nearly three-fourths of the amount.

Jim Bussey, the Democratic candidate for sheriff, says that he will turn back to the county treasury every cent over and above the actual expense of feeding the prisoners, if elected. The people ought to give him a trial and see if he will, and if he feels them six him good and plenty in two years when he comes up for reelection. Also the sheriff should ask the county commissioners to print a statement every quarter, showing his expenditures for food for the prisoners, what he receives and what he turns back. Some little reforms like this might as well be started in this county in this year of reforms. How can we expect the nation to clean up its affairs if we do not begin at home?

INSTRUCTIONS TO SCRATCHERS

If you are a Republican, Progressive or Socialist, and desire to vote for one or more of the Democratic candidates for district judge (and it seems that almost every Progressive and Republican is doing it) you must make a cross (X) after the name or names of Democratic candidates for whom you wish to vote, and draw a line through the name or names of the Republican, Progressive, Prohibitionist or Socialist candidates for whom you do not wish to vote.

Follow the same rule as to candidates for the following offices: Congressmen-at-large; representatives in the legislature; justices of the peace and constables.

This rule applies to all offices for which there are two or more candidates upon the ticket, otherwise a cross (X) opposite the name of the Democratic for whom you wish to vote is sufficient. That is to say, it is not necessary to cross out the name of a Republican, Progressive, Prohibitionist or Socialist for whom you do not wish to vote where there are only two candidates for the same office.

HOW TO VOTE

Every voter of El Paso county who wants to vote for Theodore Roosevelt and for the congressional, state, legislative, judicial and county tickets, must write the word "PROGRESSIVE" at the top of his ballot. If you want to vote a straight ticket, as most Progressives will do, no other marking of the ballot is necessary.

NO OTHER WORD THAN PROGRESSIVE WILL INSURE YOUR CASTING YOUR VOTE FOR THE COMPLETE TICKET. The Progressive ticket is the Bull Moose ticket. It is the Roosevelt ticket. But the Progressive ticket, legislative and judicial candidates appear on the ballot under the name, PROGRESSIVE, only, and TO VOTE FOR THEM, YOU MUST WRITE PROGRESSIVE.

The Roosevelt electors and most of the congressional and state candidates appear on the ballot under the party names of Progressive, Bull Moose and Roosevelt, some also under the party name, Citizens; but if you were to write any one of these names except PROGRESSIVE at the top of your ballot, you would not be voting at all for your county, legislative or judicial candidates.

Therefore, if you are a believer in Theodore Roosevelt, a supporter of the Bull Moose or a plain Progressive—which are all one and the same thing—write the one word PROGRESSIVE at the top of your ballot, nothing else. And tell your friends to do likewise.

COLLEGE HAS FIFTEEN MISSIONARIES AFIELD

Student volunteers from the institutions of Colorado are doing missionary work in all parts of the world, according to reports made at the opening session of the fifth annual convention of the volunteers, held last night in Perkins hall. Colorado college has 15 representatives in foreign lands, and heads the list of institutions in this state.

A much larger attendance than was expected is here for the conference, about 50 delegates from all of the colleges and universities in the state being present. An informal reception was held at Benin hall, last night, and President Stocum welcomed the delegates. John W. Nippes, state secretary of the movement, made the principal address, speaking on the purposes of the meetings.

Today's program is as follows:

Morning.
8:30—Devotional.
9:40-10:30—Address—Condition in Non-Christian Lands—J. Z. Moore.

SHERMAN FUNERAL TO BE HELD TODAY

Services First Presbyterian Church at 2 o'clock This Afternoon

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Utica paid tribute today to the memory of Vice President James S. Sherman. For hours, this afternoon and evening, thousands of persons filed through the Onondaga county court house and gazed for the last time upon the face of the vice president, whose body was lying in state in the rotunda of the building.

The body lay in state from 8 o'clock this afternoon until 9 o'clock tonight, and during that period it was estimated that more than 25,000 persons passed through the building.

The procession which, earlier in the day, escorted the casket from the Sherman home to the court house, was imposing.

Leaving the street as the body was borne from the house, were hundreds of Mr. Sherman's friends, neighbors and business associates. As the bearers moved down the walk, several gray-haired veterans, lined upon either side, saluted as it passed. They were members of Bacon post No. 53, Grand Army of the Republic, and Mr. Sherman was the first honorary member to be taken into the post.

Great Outpouring Citizens.

Two hundred Elks, members of the citizens committee, the chamber of commerce, Boosters club, County Bar association, directors of several banks and scores of citizens, friends and neighbors of the vice president, were among those who followed the body to the court house. As the cortege moved through the business section, the bells of the city hall and various churches were tolled. The bearers had scarcely disappeared within the building when a storm broke.

Many of those who had gathered preferred a drenching to losing their places, and there was no break in the line that soon began to file through the building. While the storm was at its height, the electric lights in the building went out, and those who happened to be passing through the rotunda for the next few minutes could only discern a shadowy form as they peered through the darkness at the face of the dead. Gas lights were soon flickering dimly, and it was not long before the electric lights were restored.

Body Rests Under Flag.

The body, clothed in a cutaway suit of black, reposed in a state casket of solid mahogany, decorated with black broadcloth with handles of antique silver. The vice president's face bore a look of serenity, but it was over-spread with a tinge of purple, the mark left by the malady that caused his death. In his right arm lay a bunch of violets, the gift of his grandchildren, and in one hand was a spray of red flowers, from the Sherman gardens.

An Elks pin, an insignia of one of the few orders to which Mr. Sherman belonged, gleamed from the lapel of his coat.

The casket rested on a flag-draped catafalque, over which was suspended a canopy of flags. A floral piece of white lilies had been laid upon the casket, while palms, ferns and flowers were arranged in profusion on either side. The exterior of the building was in mourning dress, with festoons of flairs on backgrounds of black and purple.

President Taft Arrives Today.

President Taft is scheduled to arrive in Utica shortly after 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and probably will call at the Sherman home before the funeral.

The private services at the house for the family will be conducted by Dr. Holden of the Dutch Reformed church, of which Mr. Sherman was for many

MISS MINNIE L. McCALL

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Miss Minnie L. McCall, candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools on the Republican ticket, is regarded by capable judges as one of the foremost teachers in the schools of Colorado Springs, and in the state of Colorado.

After securing normal school training, she began her career as an educator in the country and city schools of Iowa, whence she came to Colorado Springs 15 years ago, and has been engaged in grade school work continuously since.

She has instructed in a number of the largest institute districts of Colorado, and in places has been recognized for work in response to the call of country teachers, who found her lectures especially helpful and inspiring.

The state board of examiners issued her a state diploma in recognition of her "eminent service in the cause of education," the highest honor possible to confer in the state of Colorado.

Miss McCall earnestly solicits the support of all voters, and if elected, pledges faithful and capable service, and the greatest economy consistent with the most efficient administration of the schools of El Paso county.

Period of Violence Preceded M'Namara Explosion Campaign

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—Going back to the calling of a strike by the Iron Workers union against bridge constructors in 1905, the government at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today read letters purporting to show that violence was the beginning of the "campaign of explosions" later carried on by the McNamaras. All the 45 men now on trial, the government charges, are implicated by the letters.

The first exhibit was a letter written by Frank Buchanan, then president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, to J. J. McNamara, saying: "If a majority of the executive board approves, a strike should be ordered." A strike was ordered against a bridge company which had sublet a contract to a Boston contractor, who employed non-union men.

In connection with this it was pointed out an explosion occurred at Millers Falls, Mass., on December 15.

Union Directed Strike.

Mr. Buchanan's letters were devoted to the union's business in directing the strike. A letter from McNamara to Frank M. Ryan, who succeeded Buchanan as read referred to conditions in Toledo. McNamara said Buchanan had authorized a member named McClory to do some missionary work in Toledo, and that $150 was appropriated for that.

McNamara said McClory employed four men, of whom two were arrested for assault, and added that an attorney said if the men pleaded guilty they would be paroled, but that after the men were paroled, the central labor union of Ohio adopted resolutions against members of the board of public service and a parole could not be had. McNamara said he had promised the men pay for the time they were in jail.

A letter was read from John T. Butler, Buffalo, vice president of the union, to McNamara about a "suggestion" I would not care to put in writing. The government alleges that the suggestion referred to violence.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

How Mrs. Bethune was Restored to Health by Lydia F. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I had cramps, backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband's told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel it, too. I can do all my own housework, work in the garden and entertain company and enjoy them, and can walk far as any ordinary woman, any day of the week. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl, and tell them that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." — Mrs. E. M. BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Remember, the remedy which did this for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that arising from feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

POSSE KILLS TWO ESCAPED CONVICTS

Desperadoes Who Broke Out of Wyoming State Prison, Put Up Fierce Battle

RAWLINS, Wyo., Nov. 1.—Richardson and Backstrom, two of the convicts who escaped from the Wyoming penitentiary here on October 13, were killed by a posse last night near Powder Springs on the Colorado-Wyoming line, according to telephone messages received here late today.

A fierce battle took place when the posse headed by Sheriff Terrell and Deputy Sheriff Ogee finally cornered the fugitives after a chase of more than two weeks. Burke, a third convict, escaped. None of the posse was shot. Richardson Backstrom and Burke, three of the most desperate among the eight convicts who escaped on October 13, killing one citizen and stabbing another, had remained together in their flight through the hills southward toward Colorado, eluding the pursuers time after time. All three were armed and they stole food and ammunition along the way. Several posses have been constantly on their trail but they succeeded in keeping ahead of their pursuers until last night.

The bodies of the dead convicts will be brought to Rawlins. The pursuit of Burke is being continued.

Students Ask Merchants to Close Stores From 2 to 5 This Afternoon

At the mass meeting held by Colorado college students last night in Perkins hall in preparation for the game with Boulder today, a resolution was passed asking the merchants of the city to close their stores during the hours of the game this afternoon, from 2 until 5 o'clock. This matter was taken under consideration by the students owing to the great interest in the game and the fact that many of the townspeople wish to attend. It is probable that such action will be taken by the merchants. A committee of students will call upon them this morning.

CONFESSES MURDER BALTIMORE WOMAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—An ordeal of more than 24 hours of questioning broke down the self-possession of Beatrice Ryall Conway and hysterical admissions made by the woman here today are said by the police to clear up the mystery of the murder of Sophia G. Singer, the Baltimore actress.

This afternoon Mrs. Conway made a statement to the police. The story given out, as told by the woman, is that Conway, the circus clown and acrobat and his wife the former "queen of burlesque" were penniless in Chicago, where they had been invited as guests of the murdered woman. Miss Singer taunted them with their helplessness, according to the alleged confession, and made a compromising suggestion to Mrs. Conway. Enraged by the proposal, Conway knocked the woman down, gagged her and robbed her, the confession continues. The pair not knowing that Miss Singer was dead fled from the city with $48 which they took from her effects and two suits of clothes belonging to W. R. Werthen, Miss Singer's fiancé.

Prominent Ministers of Denver Denounce Pearce

Seven prominent ministers of Denver, after hearing evidence in the case of James B. Pearce, secretary of state and Democratic candidate for reelection on the charges made against his moral character and conduct, have issued the following statement:

"Denver, Colo., October 31, 1912.

"Dear Brother:
"We, the undersigned, have examined certain affidavits bearing upon the personal character of James B. Pearce, secretary of state and candidate for reelection. We have likewise heard statements from various persons associated with him in the state house and in his office. These matters have been investigated by us independently of any organization or any public journal. The most of them have not appeared in print to our knowledge. The individuals making these statements have in every case appeared personally and have told us of matters of which they were personally cognizant. These affidavits and statements have fully convinced us that in character and in conduct Mr. Pearce is unfit for the office to which he aspires.

"You will readily understand that women making such statements do not desire the notoriety that would come with the publication of their names and of details. It has seemed sufficient that they should be willing to swear to such statements or to appear before us personally in this matter. For this reason we are taking the responsibility of this statement upon ourselves.

"We have no desire to bring partisan politics into the Christian pulpit. We are influenced by no personal interest or partisan bias. We are impelled simply by the gravity of a moral issue. For this reason we appeal to you and through you to the people of your congregation, for the sake of the honor of our state, for the sake of its womanhood, for the sake of moral standards in our public life to cast your ballot against Mr. Pearce in the coming election, and we ask you to communicate this to the members of your congregation.

"Mr. Pearce was offered the opportunity of appearing before us personally and privately and of bringing in any witnesses he desired, which opportunity he declined.

BUSINESS MEN OPPOSE STATEWIDE PROHIBITION

The following self explanatory letter has been issued by business men of the city relative to the proposition to enact a statewide prohibition law.

This letter is addressed to you in the interest of temperance and good government. It was unquestionably due to the efforts of the conservative and best moral element of Colorado Springs citizenship that the unfortunate period of prohibition in this city terminated in April, 1911. Since then, we believe that conditions under which the sale of liquor has been allowed in this city have been more nearly ideal than, perhaps in any city in the United States.

A law is being submitted for your vote on November 5, which, if passed, means a resumption of the unfortunate and disgusting conditions that existed two or three years ago.

If you desire the present satisfactory conditions to continue, vote against statewide prohibition. To vote against it does not mean that you are voting for intemperance, but to retain control of the local situation.

COLORADO BUSINESS MEN'S HOME RULE LEAGUE.

E. L. Ballard, Secretary
W. S. Dunning, Treasurer

MAUD JENKINS BACK

When authorities went there to find her, information first secured led to the belief that traces of the girl were found in Denver, Omaha and Kansas City, but investigation dispelled those theories.

Miss Jenkins last night declined a telephone interview with a newspaperman, but referred him to her uncle.

"My niece has always wanted to get out into the world and earn her own living," said Mr. Smith, "but she is tired of that now and is glad to be back home. She has encountered experiences enough to satisfy her longing for adventure."

"She left Canon City the morning of October 10 to visit relatives in Cripple Creek. As you have stated in the paper, she left the train at Colorado Springs and went to the Adams hotel occupying the day with making purchases, and then after leaving the hotel that night, we lost all track of her. She had telephoned relatives in Cripple Creek she would be there the next day and even forwarded her suit case to them."

"When she left home she had not entirely recovered from a nervous period after resulting from a lightening flash some years ago. Once while under a spell she accidentally shot me through the cheek. She does not remember all that happened in her absence, but she does recall that she narrowly escaped being in a train wreck at Denver."

"She went on to Alliance, Neb., and then to Grand Island. She found employment as stenographer at a small salary, and learned that positions of $125 a month are not to be found immediately."

"We traced her there and I went and brought her home. She has not spoken since from the nervous spell and this winter I am going to send her to San Diego, Cal., with her aunt, my wife."

Francis M. McMahon

COUNTY TREASURER

Some of the reasons why FRANCIS M. McMAHON should be re-elected COUNTY TREASURER:

He has improved the accounting system so that it is now second to none in the state. He has handled an increased business in all departments without increasing the number of employees.

The office has been conducted upon a sound business and banking basis, is now handling more than one million dollars per year, and is the collecting and disbursing agent of 61 school districts, towns and cities and of several important county funds.

His administration has been high-class in every respect, and the residents of El Paso county will be assured of an efficient and economical administration of this important office by again electing Mr. McMahon County Treasurer.

FIGURES SHOW CITY'S TOTAL WATER STORAGE

There has been a decrease of 29,000,000 gallons since September 30 in the total stored water of the local system, according to figures prepared by Water Superintendent McReynolds. The amount in the various reservoirs is as follows: No. 1, 40,000,000 gallons; No. 2, 215,000,000 gallons; No. 3, 120,000,000 gallons; No. 4, 117,000,000 gallons; No. 5, 607,000,000 gallons; Lake Moraine, 240,000,000 gallons; total, 1,420,000,000. In addition there is 250,000,000 gallons in Prospect lake and 15,000,000 gallons in the Pike View reservoir, making a total for all purposes of 2,067,000,000. The seepage from Nos. 4 and 5, according to the superintendent, is the same as last month, 1,200,000 gallons daily. The watershed, he says, is in fine condition.

SOPHOMORE BARBECUE NEXT MONDAY EVENING

owing to a conflict in dates, the annual barbecue for the sophomore class at Colorado college, which was postponed from Thursday night to Tuesday, on account of the weather has been finally set for Monday night. The class has prepared some special features for the affair, which is one of the biggest attractions of the college year. A program will be given; there will be a Hot, Lemon menu, a pantant and special stunts by the sophomores.

MARRIAGE LICENSES NOT IN DEMAND ON FRIDAYS

The superstition that Friday is an unlucky day is believed by most young couples entering matrimony, according to records in the office of the county clerk. Not in many months has a marriage license been issued on a Friday in El Paso county, showing that few wish to risk the traditional sinister influence of the day.

Character L. P. O. O. will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. J. B. Meerritt, 109 North Tejon street.

Hansen, Hurt Oct. 26, Is Still Unconscious

Harry Hansen of Colorado City, who was injured a week ago this evening by a fall from his horse on West San Miguel street, was still unconscious at midnight last night, 149 hours after the accident occurred. He has never been entirely conscious in that time, although in the last day or two he has opened his eyes for a moment and has once or twice spoken. The physicians hold out hope of his recovery.

RECORDS SHOW MONTH OF OCTOBER WARMER

The summary of the weather reports for October, given out yesterday, showed that the month was slightly warmer than the whole of October usually is; that the amount of moisture that fell during the month was almost double the ordinary amount, and that the percentage of sunshine during the month was high.

The mean barometric pressure was 24.07 inches of mercury; the maximum, 24.33 inches, being reached October 13; and the minimum, 23.75 inches, October 4 and 5.

The mean temperature for the month was 46.7 degrees, 9.6 degrees greater than the mean for October for the last 34 years, 37.1 degrees. The maximum for the month, 70 degrees, was reached October 8, and the minimum, 27 degrees, October 29 and 30. The greatest range of temperature on any one day was October 8, 33 degrees.

The mean velocity of the wind during the month was 7.7 miles per hour. The maximum, 50 miles per hour, was reached October 28.

The total moisture falling during the month was 62.06 of an inch, .38 of an inch greater than the mean for 32 years, 61.68 of an inch. The maximum precipitation in any 24 hours was .29 of an inch.

Of all the time that the sun could have shown during the month, it was visible 68.8 per cent. Sixteen days were clear, nine partly cloudy and six entirely cloudy. On 11 days the sun shone 100 per cent of the possible time, and on only two was there no sunshine at all.

Previous records for the month of October are: The maximum temperature for the month, 76 degrees, was reached in 1892; and the minimum, minus 16 degrees, in 1888. The maximum precipitation for the month, 2.3 inches, was recorded in 1899.

BURNS TO SELL EL PASO CO. HOLDINGS IS RUMOR

Negotiations for the sale of the El Paso Consolidated Gold Mining Co. stock owned by James F. Burns, that have been pending for several weeks, may come to completion shortly, according to information received in mining circles. Burns has admitted that negotiations have been pending for some time for the sale of the block of stock, but until recently, it was believed, there was little probability of the sale.

Allen L. Borris, president of the company, has held several conferences in this city with New York men during the last few days, but it is not known whether or not the Burns stock was under consideration.

At the annual meeting of the El Paso company, held March 12 last, Burns joined with the insurgent ranks, headed by S. S. Bernard, in an attempt to elect a new board of directors, but was defeated as a candidate for director.

SALVATION ARMY WILL TRY TO RAISE $500,000

The Salvation army throughout the United States will hold a national General Brotherhood memorial tag day, in connection with the election, Tuesday, and the local Salvation army obtained permission from the council, yesterday, to sell the tags. The purpose of the tag day is to raise $500,000 in the United States to build, equip and endow two training colleges for the training of men and women in all branches of the Salvation army, charity, and religion. People with tags will be stationed at all the polling places during the day, and the local Salvation army hopes to make a creditable showing.

MISSING BOY PICKED UP IN GRAND JUNCTION

According to advices last night, Ralph Personette, the 12-year-old son of Frank Personette, 316 East Mill street, has been located in Grand Junction, and will be returned to Colorado Springs. The lad, it is said, wanted to see the world, but found the method undertaken not satisfactory. He and another boy from Salida were taken care of by Grand Junction officers until their parents were located.

INHERITS FORTUNE

Mrs. Harrie Harvey of Colorado Springs, has received a legacy of $15,000 from the estate of her grandfather, a retired farmer of Dublin, according to press dispatches from South Haven, Mich. Mrs. Harvey's name does not appear in the city directory.

Mrs. D. P. Davies, 2527 North Tejon street, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. L. Halverson, in California, for several months, has returned to this city.

DOVE OF PEACE FIGURES IN INSIGNIA DAY PROGRAM

The dove of peace, signifying the end of hostilities between the two upper classes, figured prominently in the Insignia day exercises at Colorado college yesterday morning. A white dove had been hidden above the stage, and the bird, decked in junior class colors, was released following President Slocum's Insignia address, and flew over the heads of the seniors. A squad of junior men armed with pigeons, headed by John Heron, fired the salute when the bird was liberated.

Probably the most beautiful feature of Insignia days for several years was the chrysanthemum parade. Each member of the Junior class carried a "mum" and the seniors and faculty in cap and gown passed under a double line of the flowers. The juniors then threw the flowers at the seniors.

President Slocum's address to the seniors was a stirring one, along the lines of the accomplishments and attitude of a true student. The address was particularly a senior class sermon, bringing out the true meaning of the day. The chapel was crowded, many town people attending.

STEPHEN PREDICTS BIG PROGRESSIVE VICTORY

Senator John B. Stephen, who has been speaking in the southern part of the state on a campaign tour for the Progressive party, returned to this city yesterday. He left in the afternoon for Denver, but will return again today. He will probably speak at several meetings in this city before the campaign closes. Senator Stephen said yesterday:

"I have never seen so much interest in a campaign as there is in this one. This is especially true among the working class and there will be a landslide for the Progressive party next Tuesday unless all signs fail. In several of the towns I visited the people called for a return meeting, and as a matter of fact, in some districts we have been unable to hold enough meetings to satisfy them."

"The people are beginning to realize more fully each day that they will have an opportunity to vote for the reforms for which they have so long sought."

S. R. Mass, Benches, Texas, says: "My baby had a dangerous attack of croup, and we thought we would lose him. But one bottle of Foley's Honey & Tar Compound pulled him through. We would not be without it in our house." The Robinson Drug Co. Adv.

READY TO START WORK ON AUTO ROAD TO GOLD CAMP

Work on the automobile boulevard, over the old stage line to Cripple Creek, which is to be done jointly by the government, the state and El Paso county, will be started next week. William Garstin, the engineer, has been making preliminary surveys for the last few days on the first few miles of the proposed road, starting near Cherokee canon. Work will be pushed on the road as long as the weather permits.

It is the intention of the government, and especially the forest service, to make the road one of the finest automobile boulevards in the state. The road will be built by El Paso county to Summit, and then Teller county has promised to do its share on the other end.

Although the money allowed by the government for the work is not enough, the state and the county will furnish the difference. It is planned to complete the work by next spring.

Woman's Greatest Trouble

Big Sandy, Tenn.—Mrs. Lucy Cantrell, of this place, says: "Every two weeks, I had to go to bed and stay there several days. I suffered untold misery. Nothing seemed to help me, until I tried Cardui, the woman's tonic. Although I had been afflicted with womanly weaknesses for seven years, Cardui helped me more than anything else ever did. It is surely the best tonic for women on earth." Weakness is woman's greatest trouble. Cardui is woman's greatest medicine, because it overcomes that weakness and brings back strength. In the past 60 years, Cardui helped over a million women. Try it for your troubles, today. Adv.

Rampant 'Tiger' Faces Its Greatest Battle in Years With University

Two Speedy Elevens Meet in Game of Championship Caliber; Both Are Confident of Victory

The stage is set for today's royal battle between Colorado College and the University of Colorado, the most bitter rivals in the Rocky Mountain region, and this afternoon at 2:30, when Referee C. Henry Smith blows the kickoff whistle, football history will be made.

Both teams are primed for the game, the loss of which would be disastrous to the championship aspirations of either institution and 3,000 football fans from every corner of the state are awaiting the result with the interest that attends a game between bitter rivals. The largest crowd ever attending a football game in Colorado Springs will pack the field; Silver and Gold in the west stands and Black and Gold in the east.

Keyed up to a high-tension point, Tiger supporters injected big doses of "pep" into themselves last night, at a rousing rally held in Perkins hall. There were speeches by members of the team that rang true, and the hall was swept with cheer after cheer for Coach Rothgeb's "little green team," as it has been called, and every man promised to give his very life to win from Boulder today.

"The Thundering 500," Boulder's supporters, will arrive at noon today over the Colorado & Southern. They will be met by C. C. rooters and escorted to the Acadia hotel, where U. of C. headquarters have been established. The Denver Alumni club of the university will come en masse with the undergraduates, and Silver and Gold colors will fly with Black and Gold all over Colorado Springs.

According to the weather man, conditions for the day should be ideal. The field is in good condition, and neither team can claim an advantage from the ground.

There is no feeling of overconfidence on either team. Coach Folsom says that he believes his team will win, and Coach Rothgeb says the same thing, while the players feel the same.

The teams will go together in the best of condition. Ivers of the varsity has a bad shoulder, but will start the game. There are no injuries in the Tiger team, the squad having been particularly lucky in this respect during the season.

Can Tigers Stand the Beef?

The Tigers will be outweighed in every point, varsity weight being evenly distributed. That Boulder beef will count more than that of Nebraska Wesleyan is an undisputed point. The varsity has a crew of hard hitters and line smashers, and it is believed that they will try to wear out the lighter C. C. line by mass plays. The college withstood the driving plunges of the Cornhuskers, and local supporters believe that they will do the same thing this afternoon. In addition to weight, the upstate aggregation is fast. Ivers and Donovan, backfield men, are trackmen.

Second String Important.

Coach Rothgeb's exceptionally strong second string men will be large factors in today's game. As soon as a man is seen showing signs of fatigue from pummeling from a heavier opponent, Rothgeb will shoot in one of the substitutes. In the backfield, in addition to the regular lineup, there are Emery, Deetz, Kampf, Herron and Kramer, in the case of emergency. On the line there are Shapcott, center and guard; Carr, tackle and guard; Hall, guard; Rose, end; Gerlach, guard.

Inside Football Important.

Eternal watchfulness and "fight" are Tiger slogans. Inside football will predominate, both teams being drilled in the science of handling the pigskin. Coaches Rothgeb and Folsom will match wits in today's game. Both are the keenest exponents of scientific football in the region.

There will be no stars in today's game. For the first time in four years, the two great stars, Vandenberg of the Tigers, and McPadden of the Varsity, will watch the game from the sidelines. Neither team has a star that shines particularly, and it will be star team work that will function.

The Tigers' best chance to wipe out the sting of defeat in the past seems to be wholly in dove-tailed teamwork from the kick-off until the finish, and in getting the jump on the university in both attack and defense. With this thought in mind, Coach Rothgeb has tuned his team for a driving pace.

Rothgeb Drills in Speed.

No matter how much speed the eleven developed in its grinding workouts this week, the coach constantly called for more speed. Day after day he sent the squad racing across the field from end to end and timed it almost as accurately as a trainer clocks a string of thoroughbreds two days before a Derby.

If the games that have gone before may be taken as a criterion the Tigers, it is presumed, will resort to the open style game. The revised rules this year fit in with Rothgeb's ideas, perhaps because they afford greater variety and greater possibilities, but more probably because his material is woefully light and far below the standard weight of college teams. Rothgeb, according to the general opinion of sport writers in the state, taught football of a more advanced type last year than any of the other coaches, and the same may be said of the Tiger mentor this year. To date he seems to be far ahead of the others in grasping the possibilities of the much revised code.

Boulder Has Advantage.

Boulder, on the other hand, is expected to play a game more along the lines of football as it was taught a couple of years ago. Her bigger and more brawny men, and the general style of her attack in the games this year and the extra down provided by the rule-makers all seem to indicate that the university will rely on short and perhaps consistent gains to obtain the best results possible. The question to be answered is just what those best

PRINCETON IS FAVORITE IN GAME TODAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Four subeiden, western football elevens and two leaders in the east are to play for another step toward capturing the championship tomorrow. In one of the biggest days of football this season, Harvard and Princeton is the big contest in the east.

In the "big nine," the Chicago-Wisconsin game, at Madison, is the center of interest, because of the high-grade football played so far this season by the two teams. The Minnesota-Illinois game, at Minneapolis, will be of equal importance in the title race. This game will fix the status of Illinois in the conference, as the Urbana team, so far, is an uncertain quantity.

The Northwestern will play Purdue on its own field, at Evanston, tomorrow. The feat of Purdue in leading Chicago to a 7-10-0 score last Saturday gives the team an advantage over Northwestern on past performances, outside of the fact that Purdue averages six pounds heavier than Northwestern.

The Chicago university team and the Illinois went north for their respective games today, with a long string of substitute players. Both are full of confidence. Wisconsin, strong in its stone wall line and crack backfield, headed by Quarterback Gillette, one of this year's stars, is full of hope. Coach Stagg was not optimistic in his predictions of Chicago's chances. The Minnesota team, with its string of long scores, awaits the Illinois game without thinking of defeat, but the team from Urbana is a strong aggregation, and, in the opinion of scouts who have watched it play, has not been extended to its utmost.

WHEN THESE TWO FRIENDLY SCHOOLS MEET!

FORMER C. C. PLAYER STAR IN FRESHMAN AT CHICAGO UNIVERSITY

W. H. Acker, fullback for the Tigers in 1911, promised to make good at Chicago university under the tutelage of A. A. Stagg, according to reports received from that football camp. Acker is playing fullback on the freshman team, having registered as a first-year man in the school of medicine, and has been the sensation of the squad. Stagg is giving Acker special lessons in the kicking end of the game, where the player is weakest, and has stated that he will have a second Eckersoll next year, when the conference ruling will allow him to play.

W. H. ACKER, FORMER TIGER

Acker played during the year the Tigers won the state championship, and was especially strong on line plunges. He is a brother of Frank Acker, all-American halfback in 1908.

ARMY AND NAVY CALL OFF GAMES; FUNERAL OF VICE PRES. SHERMAN

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 1.—The football game tomorrow between the Army and Holy Cross has been cancelled by orders from the secretary of war suspending all duties at this post tomorrow on account of the funeral of Vice President Sherman.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 1.—After calling off the football game scheduled to be played here tomorrow between Navy and Western Reserve of Cleveland, O., as a mark of respect to the memory of Vice President Sherman, the naval academy authorities permitted a game to be played between the two teams this afternoon.

The game, which was won by the midshipmen, by a score of 7 to 0, was an "unofficial" contest and the members of the home team were not permitted to cheer, approbation and encouragement of the team being restricted to hand-clapping.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

That the synthetic rubber tire is hardly apt to prove a serious competition to the natural product for some time to come is shown by figures made public concerning the cost of making the two pairs of tires turned out by the Goodyear factory in Germany.

Five years of research and labor and $250,000 were spent in making the tires, and it is figured that individually the direct cost of each tire is $31.20. It is said that the production of 10,000 tons of synthetic rubber by the fuel oil process would require the starch from all the potatoes grown on 1,000,000 acres of land. Rating the yield per acre at 300 bushels, the potatoes needed would be worth at least $200,000,000. That would make the potato element in the synthetic rubber cost about $12 a pound. If sawdust is used, this cost would be reduced, but the availability of sawdust has been sharply questioned. If coal be the material at the foundation of the product, the cost of material would be within the bounds of reason. But in the light of old, hard facts and assuming that polymerizing can be utilized on a large scale, a fact disputed by many experts, the cost of manufacturing synthetic rubber will always be a material item.

Even with a fairly early frost the chances favor a production of more than 12,000,000 bushels. This, combined with the heavy yield of rice and corn, insures prosperity for the greater part of another year.

Farmers are using motor trucks almost exclusively in Orleans county, N. Y., for delivery to cities of berries, butter, cream and produce, owing to the improvement in good roads in that section.

The traffic ordinance in Cincinnati, Ohio, which for several years has prevented automobilists from using all kinds of warning signals except the

COLDS DO NOT CAUSE CATARRH

A cold will usually aggravate the symptoms of Catarrh, just as it may increase the pains of Rheumatism. But the cold has no more to do with the real cause of the one than with the other. Bad blood is the underlying cause for Catarrh; the circulation is infected with impurities which are deposited into the mucous membranes causing inflammation and irritation, followed by excessive secretion of the nose and throat, roaring sounds in the ears, neuralgia, inflamed eyes, etc. Being a deep-seated blood trouble, Catarrh must be treated constitutionally, for it is beyond the reach of local treatment. The blood must be purified—the cause removed before a cure can be effected. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and at the same time building up the system by its fine tonic effects. In other words S. S. S. cures the trouble by supplying the mucous membranes with healthy, life-giving blood instead of saturating them with catarrhal impurities. Special book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write and request same. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

Bets at Even Odds.

Betting on the game is at even odds. There is considerable Boulder money in town but it is being covered as rapidly as it appears. The officials for today's game will be C. Henry Smith, Boulder, referee; Steele, Denver, umpire; Fene, Denver, headlines man. All are competent judges of the game.

Last night's practice consisted of light signal work and the Tigers went to bed early.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM Baking Powder

Purity in food, lower cost of living;
these are the demands of the day.

Pure food is health, and health is economy itself. We cannot have health without healthful food.

The most healthful foods are the quickly raised flour foods biscuit, cake, muffins, crusts and other pastry when perfectly made from wholesome ingredients.

Dr. PRICE'S baking powder makes these foods in specially attractive, appetizing and wholesome form, and for both economic and hygienic reasons, such foods should be more largely substituted for meat in the daily diet.

But bear in mind that alum, or unwholesome baking powder, can never make pure, wholesome food.

What the Press Agents Say

BUNNY HUG, WITH TEXAS TOMMY DANCERS AT THE OPERA HOUSE NEXT WEEK

"The Bunny Hug" is one of the dance numbers the Texas Tommy Dancers present in their act at the Grand Opera house next week. It is a certain dance that will leave haunting memories with you after you go home. They will also introduce the New Orleans glide. Six people are seen in this act, it originally being booked from San Francisco, where these dances seem to originate. The act being the novelty that it is sought alone to pack the theater nightly.

Four other features will be seen on the program making in all a one hour and a half performance. The great three-reel motion picture will be seen, "The Garden of Allah." These pictures were offered in Denver three days this week at the Princess theater at 10 and 20 cent prices. A lecture will be given of the films.

An act has been booked that only under extraordinary conditions would be seen here on next week's bill. Bicknell and Glibney in songs and conversational humor. This act jumps from the Empress theater, Chicago, for their engagement here, Colorado Springs breaking the long trip to San Francisco. They will play the three days here opening in Frisco Sunday matinee.

Seelyes and Seelyes, a novelty musical act, "Ragtime and More Ragtime." The piano talks in this act. A great success over the entire Sullivan and Considine circuit.

This program opens Monday matinee for a three-day run with matinees Tuesday and Wednesday. Popular prices will prevail. Matinee 10c, 25c; evenings, 10c, 20c, 30c. Seats reserved at night Matinee 2:45; evenings, two performances, 7:30 and 9:10. It will be "where everybody goes" at the Grand Opera house next week.

Election Returns Tuesday Night. By a special wire which will be put in for the Opera house building the management announces that the returns will be read from the stage after each canvass act or moving picture on election night.

Anyone is at liberty to investigate the above statement at the Opera house drug store, or the box office.

ABOUT MARJORIE CORTLAND IN "BABY MINE"

It would be difficult to find a stage favorite of the feminine gender who has not acquired some sort of an interesting pastime.

Miss Marjorie Cortland, who plays the child-wife in the Mayo comedy, "Baby Mine," which comes to the Grand Opera house Monday, November 11, is an expert with the kodak and her hobby is to photograph birds of every description. In her collection, which is probably the only one of its kind ever made by a woman, Miss Cortland has dozens of pictures of quail, killdeer, snipe and woodcock, all hunted in their native haunts with a camera; but none of the wary game birds were as hard to capture in likeness on a camera picture as was the tiny, timid bird, "Dave" and "Daisy." I hunted in vain for my picture of a thrush. Miss Cortland said in a story of the camera bird hunt when her collection was taken by the city of New York. "I finally located a thrush's nest so hidden among leafy boughs that the sun penetrated it only for two hours a day. There were two young birds in the nest and the mother was the most watchful and timid feathered thing I have ever known. I could not approach within 25 feet of the tree without her taking flight. I finally evolved a plan by which I believed I could gain a picture. I frightened the thrush from the nest and then climbed the tree, tied my kodak in the proper focus and attached a string more than 100 feet long to the camera shutter spring. I tried for four days and snapped nine pictures before I got the lady thrush poised on the edge of her nest and looking straight into the lens."

"THE GREAT DIVIDE"

REALLY WORTH WHILE

Quite the most worth while of the recent offerings of the Burns players is "The Great Divide," the play this week at the Burns.

When this play first appeared a few years ago, no lesser stars than Henry Miller and Margaret Anglin brought it out and made a long and successful run. It was heralded as the great American play by a good many dramatic critics of note, and only recently has been released for stock. Like many of the plays presented at the Burns by the present stock company, it must cost the management a round sum as royalty.

"The Great Divide" shows a picturesque spot amid the deserts and mountains of Arizona. The staging has been well worked out by the Burns winning of a high bred eastern girl, who, forced into a hasty marriage with a western man whom she does not love, effects his transformation into a strong, tender-hearted man of affairs, and even against her will, is forced to love him.

There is but little action in the play. But there is acting on the part of Miss Wayne as Ruth Jordan, and Alansworth Arnold as Stephen Ghert, that borders close upon the really gripping and vital. You will feel its spell when you see it and will be quite ready to praise the superb acting of Miss Wayne, Mr. Arnold and the rest of the cast.

Remember this afternoon is your last matinee of "The Great Divide." Doors open at 1:45 p. m. Curtain at 2:30 p. m. sharp. Phone 200.

An Arizona mine captures copper which escapes in waste water by placing slat metal in the water until it is coated with the copper.

CITY PAY DAY—Yesterday was pay day at the city hall, and $10,000.00 was distributed to city officials and employees. The mayor, commissioners and police magistrate are paid once a month, while other city employees are paid every two weeks.

OPEN FORUM—The two liquor bills and the publication and procedure bill will be discussed at the Open Forum tomorrow evening at 745 o'clock in the Odessa theater. There will be speakers on both sides of the liquor bills. Mrs. H. S. Schindler will speak. All are welcome.

THE POLITICS OF THE CHURCH-MAN is the subject of the address at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Morning subject, Roman Catholicism. Both addresses by the pastor, Rev. Samuel G. D. IV. A 30 minute program of high-grade music will open the evening service. All.

BUILDING PERMITS—Building permits for October aggregated $129,861, the largest monthly total for a long time. The Y. W. C. A. building to cost $20,751 and the dormitories for the deaf and blind school caused the increase in the total. The city engineer issued a total of 25 permits.

BETHEL VESPERS—The Rev. Adm.
W. Moore, pastor of the Second Congregational church, will lead the vesper service at Bethel hospital at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A cause of the First Presbyterian church will sing. All friends of the hospital are welcome.

OVERRIDE PROTESTS—The tests made against paying assessment and other improvements in district 1 were attended by residents of the council meeting yesterday. A resolution declared that the Prudence J. Zobrist should be ruled because she had signed the petition and made a complaint in ward.

WRITE "PROGRESSIVE" ON BALLOT NEXT TUESDAY

One of the most enthusiastic meetings of the campaign was the Progressive rally held last night at the Hin-side Congregational church. The meeting, which was attended by nearly 100 people, was presided over by Gilbert Nettleton, one of the men who joined in organizing the Republican party in 1886. Nettleton, who works as a carpenter, is "35 years young,"
and said, in opening the meeting:
"The Progressive movement is a young men's movement—that is why I am in it."

Judge Kerr, the first speaker, answered the attacks on him, and explained why he is so bitterly opposed by certain interests. W. W. Galt then explained the growth of the Progressive movement. He emphasized the need of writing the word "Progressive" at the top of the ballot. John H.
Weir spoke in a general way of the industrial conditions that created a demand for the Progressive party, predicted the election of Roosevelt and showed up the attacks of the Pueblo Chief on Ben Griffith. W. T. Kennedy, Miss Laura A. Leech, Charles Brown and Elmer A. Hand spoke briefly.

MANITOU PROGRESSIVES
AT ENTHUSIASTIC RALLY

A big Progressive rally attended by more than 175 people was held in Ma-netic theater in Manitou last night.
The meeting was presided over by Dan Rupp, and was addressed by a number of candidates and others.

T. R. McDonald of Cripple Creek, candidate for district attorney, made the first talk, discussing the general national situation and the importance of the success of the Progressive movement in the nation. W. T. Kennedy, candidate for county commissioner from the Third district, spoke of good roads and the necessity of electing a commissioner familiar with country conditions. Mrs. Mary J. Green for representative in the legislature, spoke of the importance of the movement.

Pains All Over

Houston Tex.—For five years, says Mrs. L. F. Hulechek of this place, I suffered with pains all over, especially in my back and side, and was so weak
I could hardly do my housework. A friend told me of Cardui. Since taking it, I feel so much better. Now I can do all my housework and pains don't bother me any more. Cardui is a strength-building medicine. Fifty years of success have produced amongst its many users confidence in Cardui and what it will do. During this time, Cardui has relieved the terrible ailments of over a million women. Why not yours? Try it today. Your druggist sells it. Adv.

briefly on the importance of women in politics, and the importance of writing the word "Progressive" and not "Bull Moose" or "Roosevelt" at the top of the ticket, because there is no local ticket representing those parties.

O. E. Collins referred to the importance of studying the measures to be voted on and urged that the voters take marked sample ballots into the booths, so that they may be sure to vote on the measures without error. He answered questions from the floor as to the meaning of many of the bills, and took up particularly the public utilities measures, eight-hour law, Moffat tunnel bill and school and social center amendment bringing out the defects in them. He paid high tribute to the work that Attorney General Ben Griffith has been doing, and urged the importance of keeping such a man in that office.

The meeting was characterized by intense enthusiasm.

Twinges of rheumatism, backache, stiff joints and shooting pains all show your kidneys are not working right. Urinary irregularities, loss of sleep, nervousness, weak back and sore kidneys tell the need of a good reliable kidney medicine. Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and restora-
